

Guideline for controlling items removed from the BSE-related Import Prohibition List

Gelatin and collagen extracted exclusively from hides and skins (for raw materials)

A. Conditions for imports

This product should be produced in a designated plant for producing raw materials of gelatin and collagen. Moreover, the plant should be approved by the Korean government's on-site inspection team.

→ When there is a request by the exporting country for on-site inspection, an expert team will be dispatched promptly.

- On-site inspection team will consist of experts from the NVRQS(National Veterinary and Quarantine Service), the KFDA(Korean Food and Drug Administration) and related authorities.

B. Measures to be taken by the exporting country

The government of the exporting country or an agency approved by the government of the exporting country should inspect whether gelatin and collagen are extracted exclusively from hides and skin and are in a state of raw materials.

The government of the exporting country or an agency by the government of the exporting country should issue quarantine certificates guaranteeing above-mentioned inspection results.

Dicalcium phosphates (with no trace of protein or fat)

A. Conditions for imports

This product should be produced in a designated plant for producing dicalcium phosphates with no trace of protein or fat. Moreover, the plant should be approved by the Korean government's on-site inspection team.

When there is a request by the exporting country for on-site inspection, an expert team will be dispatched promptly.

- On-site inspection team will consist of experts from the NVRQS(National Veterinary and Quarantine Service), the KFDA(Korean Food and Drug Administration) and related authorities.

B. Measures to be taken by the exporting country

The government of the exporting country or an agency approved by the government of the exporting country should inspect whether dicalcium phosphates do not include ingredients such as protein and fat.

The government of the exporting country or an agency by the government of the exporting country should issue quarantine certificates guaranteeing above-mentioned inspection results.

Hydrolyzed poultry protein (only from liver and heart)

A. Conditions for imports

This product should be produced in a designated plant for producing hydrolyzed poultry protein originating from its liver and heart. Moreover, the plant should be approved by the Korean government's on-site inspection team.

When there is a request by the exporting country for on-site inspection, the expert team will be dispatched promptly.

- On-site inspection team will consist of experts from the NVRQS(National Veterinary and Quarantine Service), the KFDA(Korean Food and Drug Administration) and related authorities.

B. Measures to be taken by the exporting country

The government of the exporting country or an agency approved by the government of the exporting country should inspect whether hydrolyzed poultry protein is originating exclusively from its liver and heart.

The government of the exporting country or an agency by the government of the exporting country should issue quarantine certificates guaranteeing above-mentioned inspection results.