6. Report results for Proficiency Testing

• Select Proficiency Testing with the square symbol at the top right corner of the page.

- Click on Home in the menu on the left.
- Click on In Progress
- Click on the blue pencil in a box to report method data and results.

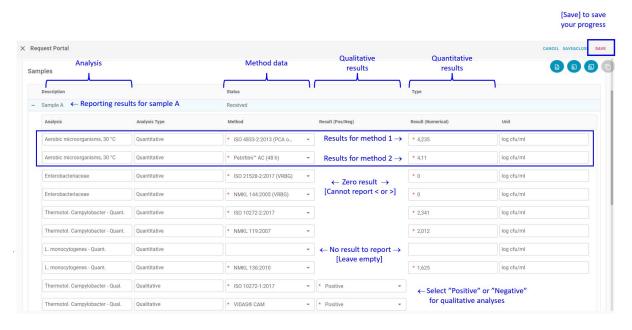

Q

- For each sample; click on the plus sign to the left of the sample to expand and show the analyses.
- Report your method data and results as in the picture below.

IMPORTANT: After filling out a few rows with results, the form will sometimes become "slow". To counter this, save your results with SAVE at the top right of the page. Then continue with filling out your results.

Unit for Microbiology

- For each analysis, it is possible to report up to two different (2) results.
 - You could e.g. report one results from an ISO method and one result from an alternative method.
 - Only fill out both rows if you have two different results to report. If you only have results from one method, leave the other row empty.
- If you have no results to report for an analysis, leave the corresponding cells empty.
 - o Do not report results like "-" or "N/A"
- For each reported result, select the method used in the drop-down menu.
 - o If your method is not available, choose "Other".
 - o Optional: leave a comment in the field "Notes".
- For food analyses; quantitative results can be reported with up to three decimal places.
 - o E.g. 3.45 or 3,456
 - O You can use either a comma (,) or a period (.) as the decimal sign.
- For drinking water analyses; quantitative results should be rounded to the nearest integer.
 - o E.g. report "34" and not "34.5".
- For both food and drinking water analyses, zero results should be reported as "0".
 - o Results "less than", e.g. "<1" or "<100", ">1" etc. cannot be reported.
- Make sure to click SAVE your results every now and then, since the web form will otherwise become "slow".
- Repeat the reporting procedure for all three samples (A, B and C).
- When you are finished, click SAVE&CLOSE, then click YES.
 - o Your results are now saved and submitted.

Unit for Microbiology

• The results can be (re-)entered and saved as many times as you like, until the reporting deadline.
